ALLEGED MIRACLE.—Acting under orders from Rome, Archbishop Kraus has appointed a court of priests to investigate the alleged miraculously cure of Sister Catherine Burke, of the Sacred Heart, St. Louis, from a malignant cancer with which she was afflicted. The investigation is secret and the conclusions will be sent to Rome, where the seal will be broken. At the Vatican all the evidence will be reviewed and pronouncement made upon the evidence as to whether it is a miracle, and it so is, as to what order or miracle it is. Upon the result of this inquiry depends much that will tend toward the definition of Mme. Barrat, founder of the order of the Sacred Heart. Sister Catherine Burke is a native of St. Louis, 36 years of age. At the age of 17 she joined the Sacred Heart Order. While stationed at Omaha, Neb., two years ago, she was taken sick with cancer, and after the best physicians of that city had pronounced the case incurable, she was sent back to her native city. Dr. A. L. Boyce attended her. He soon announced that she was beyond earthly skill. The sisters of the order decided to make a nine-days' prayer to Mme. Barrat, their patron. The story current is that they secured a garment that had been worn by Mme. Barrat and arrayed Sister Catherine in it. At the end of the nine days Sister Catherine arose from her bed, dressed herself without assistance, and reported to the Mother Superior for duty. All trace of the cancer had disappeared.
